DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-105, drawn to a matching chart and a system comprising a plurality of comparison samples, classified in at least for example class 707, subclass 100.
- II. Claims 106-137, drawn to a method of making a comparison sample by depositing a coating on a support, classified in at least for example class 428, subclass 357.
- III. Claims 138-141, drawn to a method of monitoring tanning, classified in at least for example class 424, subclass 59.
- IV. Claims 142-164, drawn to a method of monitoring treatment, classified in at least for example class 424, subclass 59.
- V. Claims 165-187, drawn to a method of selecting a product, classified in at least for example class 434, subclass 98.
- VI. Claims 188-199, drawn to a method of manufacturing packaging, classified in at least for example class 53, subclass 396.
- VII. Claims 200-212, drawn to a method of treatment, classified in at least for example class 8, subclass 400.
- VIII. Claims 213-219, drawn to a method of enabling analysis, classified in at least for example class 382, subclass 129.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Application/Control Number: 10/006,886

Art Unit: 1631

Inventions I and II can be shown to be distinct because the product of Invention I is not required to be produced by the method of Invention II and the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)).

Inventions I and (III-VII) are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product of Invention I can be used in multiple methods.

Inventions I and VIII can be shown to be distinct because the method of Invention VIII does not use the product of Invention I.

The methods of Inventions II-VIII can be shown to be distinct, each from the other, as they have different starting materials, method steps, and/or goals.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification and the necessity for non-coextensive literature searches, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
